This Week: 14th Feb (Week 1)

Next week: Half Term!

'Froggy' Friday

I admit it, I am...a Vietnamese mossy frog! For those people in the know who duly took part in Friday's drop down day, this frog-related 'classification' is one of several conclusions to a personality profile generated as part of Unifrog, our first rate online careers portal that is able to provide outstanding guidance with regard to careers, universities and apprenticeships. In my part, the Vietnamese mossy frog represents that I am apparently an ISTJ (as part of the Myers Briggs personality types and this stands for 'Introvert, Sensor, Thinker, Judger', and therefore suggests that I am a "Practical, organised character who enjoys getting things done the right way." Interesting!

For those students using the system, as a consequence of the result of this personality profile, I am offered up a broad range careers to then research further in order to determine what the entry requirements are for the job, whether the career is in a phase of growth or decline in addition to finding details of the likely salary you would receive for doing this job (alongside lots of other job related information).

We are delighted to share that ALL students with the Sixth Form have access to Unifrog and due to the system being completely web-based, they are able to access this portal 24hrs a day, every day. I also look forward to sharing details of the Unifrog platform with parents and carers in order for them to be aware of the extent of quality information, advice and guidance that you are able to access. Go to <https://www.unifrog.org/sign-in> to access the system.

In conversation with one of my children over the weekend, I discovered that she was a 'golden poison frog' as a result of her using Unifrog also within her own school. This ensued a delightful parent/child discussion where we looked through the platform together and is something I hope to model, as mentioned with both yourselves and your respective parent/carers. For now, just keep logging in and having a look at the multitude of tools at your disposal. You cannot break the system, and anything that is of interest or searched-for can also be saved in order for you to quickly revisit this information at a later date. What type of frog are you?

Year 13 Mock Exams

Good luck goes to our Yr13 A Level students this week as they sit a second set of mock exams.

A copy of the schedule is on page 2. Please remember to head to the MAIN HALL, where you will be collected by the exams team to go to your venue.

Drop Down Day (DDD) Student Requirement

It was disappointing that some students chose not to attend Friday's DDD. These specialized days feature twice a year and as such form part of the Information, Advice and Guidance that we are required to relay to you in order to support you as you move through this critical two year period within Sixth Form. Please can I remind you all that these days are compulsory, and, as and where they occur, supersede whatever your normal timetable would be for that ONE DAY. Those who did not attend unfortunately must be classified as being absent for unauthorized absence (unless parents contacted to inform us a valid reason for absence). It's a great day to stretch yourself, build your skill-set and develop your career-related knowledge in order to make fully informed decisions.
